

2 RULES FINE ART CELEBRATES THREE YEARS ON THE MARIETTA SQUARE

Since opening their gallery doors in September 2011, the Rule family members of 2 Rules Fine Art have promoted both local and national artists through solo and group exhibitions in their art gallery on Church Street in Historic Downtown Marietta. Their gallery space also includes a gallery gift shop, which showcases handcrafted items such as pottery, wood, glass, jewelry, letterpress and ceramic sculptures by local artists.

In addition to celebrating a third year anniversary on the Marietta Square, the gallery also just opened its twenty-fifth exhibition. The show, entitled "Pressing Matters V," is this year's annual members' exhibition by the Atlanta Printmakers Studio (APS). Works shown by APS members in the exhibition are original prints using hand-pulled printmaking processes.

"Pressing Matters V" opened during Marietta's Art Walk on October 3. Awards for the show were announced during the reception. Artist Chris Neuenschwander of Kennesaw won the "Best in Show" award. Three "Honorable Mention" prizes were awarded to Daryl White of Atlanta, Lauren Koch of Carrollton, and Jerushia Graham of Jonesboro. The night also included relief printing demonstrations by Neuenschwander.

An additional reception for the exhibition will take place at the gallery during Historic Marietta's Holiday Open House on Friday, November 7, 6-8pm. The gallery is located at 85 Church Street, Marietta, GA 30060. For more information on the gallery or the exhibition, visit www.2rulesfineart.com.
